

Discover Turin

JTNDdmlkZW8lMjBpZCUzRCUyMmJhY2tnbm91bmQtdmlkZW8lMjIlMjBhdXRvcG
xheSUyMG1ldGVkJTNEJTBBJTlWJTlWJTNDc291cmNlJTlWc3JjJTNEJTlWJTlW
d3AtY29udGVudCUyRnVwbG9hZHMlMkZzaXRlcYUyRjIxJTJGMjAyMiUyRjExJT
JGdHVyaW4tZm9vdGFnZS5tcDQlMjIlM0UlmEElM0MlMkZ2aWRlbyUzRQ==

Turin (Torino) is a city in constant evolution: from Augusta Taurinorum (after 27 a.C.) to the capital of the Savoy Dukedom (1563) until becoming Italy's first capital (1861), the queen of the automobile industry (1899) and the star of the 2006 Winter Olympics. Today it is being presented with an image that makes it even more appealing. Turin is a city that is just waiting to be discovered in all of its many aspects: filled with historic evidence, acclaimed museums, works of contemporary art en plein air, cultural events, with its characteristic porticos, renowned historical meeting places, its extensive parks and magic places.

Mole Antonelliana

Begun by Alessandro Antonelli in 1863 as a synagogue, with a 168-meter-tall spire added in 1878 to 1880, Mole Antonelliana is the most recognizable landmark on Turin's skyline. The tower offers spectacular 360-degree views across the city to the surrounding hills and the Savoy Alps.

Museo Egizio (Egyptian Museum)

The Palazzo dell'Accademia delle Scienze houses the Egyptian Museum, whose collections began in 1824 when King Carlo Felice acquired 5,268 artifacts excavated in Egypt. Nowadays the Egyptian Museum is Turin's most visited attraction.

Juventus Stadium

A must-see for followers of Turin's Juventus, the stadium is officially called the Allianz Stadium, but in Turin it's simply known as The Stadium. You can visit to see the museum and take a guided tour through the facilities, visiting the locker rooms, press box, and the pitch itself.

Museo Nazionale dell'Automobile

The National Automobile Museum provides a comprehensive survey of the development of the motor car, with special attention to the Turin auto manufacturers, but by no means limited to them. The collection of antique and classic cars is outstanding, and multimedia exhibits tell their stories and put automobiles in a social and cultural context.

Palazzo Reale

The hub of the Court and of political power, the Royal Palace and the surrounding buildings formed the centre of command and the main place for representing all the majesty of the House of Savoy.

Palazzo Carignano

The palace, which was the birthplace of King Victor Emmanuel II (1820) and once the meeting place of the Sardinian chamber of deputies and of the first Italian parliament, now houses the National Museum of the Italian Risorgimento

Palazzo Madama

A UNESCO World Heritage Site and home to the first Senate in the Kingdom of Italy, Palazzo Madama embodies the city's history: from a Roman gate it became a fortress during the Middle Ages and subsequently a castle for the Acaja princes.

Piazza San Carlo

The beautiful arcaded square has become a regular stage for various historical and social events, including election rallies, concerts, sports events like the 2006 Winter Olympics or Juventus matches.

Royal Palace of Venaria

The incredible Royal Palace of Venaria now hosts major events, exhibitions and concerts in its magnificent interiors and spectacular gardens.

Turin Cathedral

Since 1578, the Duomo – the only example of Renaissance art in the city – has held the Holy Shroud, the Cloth claimed to have wrapped the body of Christ.

Shopping

The long colonnaded route created in the past for the perambulations of the Savoy household in the town centre has now become an absolute paradise for shoppers. The area traditionally devoted to shopping is between Via Roma and the pedestrian zones of Via Carlo Alberto and Via Lagrange where the shop windows of all the big names in fashion and jewellery glitteringly shine. Via Garibaldi is younger and trendier, Via Po is more “intellectual” with the bookshops and stores selling new and used records.

Dining

Piazza Vittorio Veneto, on the River Po, Borgo Dora and the Roman Quarter - the city's real centre - are home to many trendy spots: here art, food and design make the atmosphere even more sparkling, here you can listen to classical music, pop and jazz all strictly live, you can chat, watch artistic performances, dance until dawn. Also San Salvario has an irresistible allure, the multiethnic district (between Porta Nuova station and Valentino Park), the focus of a major urban renewal project.

Culture

If your idea of an evening is more... classic, and you experience a thrill every time the curtain rises, then be enchanted by opera, concerts, dance, great drama and the avant-garde that tread the boards of the many theatres in the city: discover the Regio Theatre, Auditorium del Lingotto, Auditorium RAI, and Carignano Theatre.

Hiking and outdoor activities

If you are passionate about outdoor sports, you shouldn't miss the opportunities offered by the province of Turin.

Hiking, trekking, cycling, road and mountain bike itineraries: the Turin Alps will provide unforgettable moments in contact with the territory.

Experience the best of Turin with a 1-day hop-on hop-off sightseeing tour, which is one of the most comprehensive introductions to the city.

GTT runs Turin's urban transport service with an efficient network of buses, trams, railways and an automatic underground line (the first driverless underground railway in Italy).

Visit the following website to gain detailed information about the different transportation services and their cost. We have collected a couple of useful resources and links for you. Organize your journey better, and select your hot spots in advance. Enjoy your trip!

- Turismo Torino e Provincia
- Congress Venue
- Convention Bureau
- Tourism Offices
- Getting to Turin

TOURIST INFO DESK DURING THE CONFERENCE

Turismo Torino e Provincia will have a promotional desk at CORA 2023, where you can find brochures, tourist information and suggestions to discover Torino with discounts:

- 16 March: 12:00-17:00
- 17 March: 10:00-14:00
- 18 March: 12:00-15:00